

OREGROWN LIVE RESIN VS. CURED RESIN

FULL SPECTRUM EXTRACTS

Oregrown's handcrafted Live Resin and Cured Resin are both extracted from high quality flower that is grown using organic methods at our own farm, or hand selected from a trusted cultivator in the state. Unlike many other products in the market, there are no additional additives in our cartridges or pods. Our Live Resin is frozen within the first 24 hours after a harvest ensuring that the plant retains all of the beneficial traits, and our Cured Resin is processed after the flower has had the proper amount of time to dry. By following these guidelines we are able to produce one of a kind, delicious extracts, that we can stand behind in good faith knowing that they are of the highest quality.
